Welcoming the arrival of a new season dedicated to outdoor living.

It's early spring, and nature is starting to awaken from its rest. Soon, we will be surrounded by blooming trees and the soothing sounds of birds. This time of year brings renewal and a sense of liberation. We have eagerly awaited the longer, brighter days and the gentle spring breeze. It's also the time of year when we begin to prepare our outdoor areas for the new season. Outdoor living has become an integral part of contemporary lifestyles, blending the comfort of indoor spaces with the serenity of the great outdoors. As our connection with nature deepens, so does the desire to create inviting and stylish outdoor spaces that serve as extensions of our homes.

With this collection, we set the stage for this seasons outdoor living. Our thoughtfully curated selection of flowerpots, outdoor furniture, and garden decor empowers you to create your own outdoor sanctuary. We encourage you to be creative and playful. Whether you aim to enhance your terrace, create a space for entertaining guests or relaxation, our new collection has everything you need.

As spring breathes life into the world outside, it also inspires a vibrant transformation within our interiors. At the end of this catalog, you will find a bright selection of colorful indoor interiors that invite you to unleash your creativity and let the essence of spring fill your home.

WINTER CARE TIPS FOR OUTDOOR FLOWERPOTS

All our outdoor flowerpots are frost, heat, and UV resistant, which means they can be placed outside all year. As the winter season approaches, it is essential to provide proper care for your flowerpots to ensure they will not get frost damage and last for years to come. Here are some guidelines on how to handle your outdoor flowerpots during winter:

Clear the drainage hole at the bottom to allow water to escape freely. A clogged drainage hole can lead to water accumulation at the bottom of the pot, potentially causing frost damage and root rot.

Improve the drainage capability of your flowerpot by adding a layer of 1/3 Leca at the bottom. Leca provides air to the soil, preventing waterlogging and ensuring that excess water can easily drain out. This layer also acts as insulation for the roots of your plants.

3

Elevate the flowerpot by at least 2cm to help create space between the pot and the cold ground. This small gap minimizes the risk of the pot's material cracking due to freezing temperatures. You can use small bricks, pot feet, or wooden blocks to achieve the desired elevation.

Position your flowerpots strategically during winter. Avoid exposing them to areas where they might accumulate a lot of snow or where water can gather around the bottom.

Look out for all flowerpots marked with GRC. These flowerpots are constructed from a novel composite material consisting of 55% cement, 40% sand and 5% fiberglass. Compared to traditional cement flowerpots, GRC flowerpots are lighter and stronger. Conventional cement flowerpots are produced using only cement and sand, and they must be made thick to attain sufficient strength, causing them to be excessively heavy. GRC flowerpots, on the other hand, contain fiber-glass to reinforce their structure, allowing for a thinner and less heavy design while maintaining strength.

The terracotta trend continues, and it seems to endure. That is likely because the terracotta aesthetic is a natural complement for most outdoor areas, and sustainable production will never go out of style. Our terracotta flowerpots are crafted using waste clay sourced from the earth and shaped by hand into various forms and designs. The terracotta material gives the pots a warm, natural look and feel.

These beautiful rugs are for indoor and outdoor use. They are very durable which makes them great for your terrace, orangery or anywhere else you would like a cosy atmosphere. Besides being very durable, our rugs are dirt repellent and quick drying. This makes our rugs the perfect option for your living room or kitchen, especially if you have kids, animals or many people passing through.

The rugs are made of 100% polypropylene. They are water repellent and UV protected which means the colors will not fade.

NATURAL WICKER

Create calm and balance on your terrace with baskets made of natural materials. You will find various sizes and styles in the collection. Use the baskets for green plants, blankets for the chilly summer evenings, or storing outdoor toys.

PRACTICAL BEAUTY

We are thrilled to present a significant addition of baskets, trays, and storage solutions in polyrattan. The color and appearance closely resemble real wicker, and the material is incredibly durable and sturdy. These baskets can withstand all weather conditions and maintain their great appearance season after season. Even in sunlight, they will not fade. Additionally, they are low maintenance, requiring only a normal wipe down. Suitable for both indoor and outdoor placement, these baskets will endure for many years to come.

LIGHT UP THE DARK

Create a cozy atmosphere in your outdoor oasis with various light sources. Lanterns with flickering candlelights or beautiful solar-powered lights add that extra touch when the sun goes down.

Our range of birdbaths comes in a variety of materials, shapes, and styles. The new glazed and colorful birdbaths will be an eye-catching addition to any garden. The glossy glazing technique looks amazing. The beautiful terracotta bird baths provide a natural and subtle look to your outdoor area. To use them, simply add water and find a location where birds can easily access it.

You may want to place it in a shaded area to help keep the water cool and prevent algae growth. Our feathered friends will love it!

As spring breathes life into the world outside, it also inspires a vibrant transformation within our interiors. With the arrival of this season, a wave of freshness and renewal sweeps through our homes. Nature's palette of soft pastels and lively greens begins to infiltrate our decor, bringing a sense of vitality and warmth.

Our delightful selection of indoor flowerpots, vases, and home decor invites you to unleash your creativity and let the essence of spring fill your home. Bright colors and light expressions abound in this selection, and we encourage you to mix and match the way you like it.
