MALIN PERSSON

*Follow Malin for home & garden inspiration here:
instagram.com/themalinpersson*

She is what you might refer to as a creative jack-of-all-trades. If you were to introduce her, you would have to list a bunch of titles, such as: inspirator, TV presenter, editor, lecturer, photographer, author, stylist, and designer. However, there is a clear common thread in all of this, which is her passion for nature, and for what is beautiful, genuine and sustainable.

Malin grew up as a horse girl in the small town of Osby, Sweden, with a nearness to nature. She was raised in a "do-everything-yourself spirit", which means that she does not shy away from anything, no matter if it is rebuilding old stuff in the Swedish TV programme Trädgårdstider, creating new gardens for the Norwegian TV programme "Tid för Hage", or going out in the woods to pick herbs, mushrooms and berries for new and innovative recipes. She has an interesting background as a top model working all over the world, and a love for Italy, where Malin lived for many years.

In spite of many interesting jobs, gardening is still Malin's great passion and hobby, and the garden is where she can let her creativity flow freely, and where she finds peace and recovers.

”To me, the garden is like a warm embrace. Being in the garden is a major contrast to the busy society we live in. Gardening helps me reconnect with nature and find calm. Getting stressed about a tomato is pointless, everything takes its own time in a garden.”

KRYDDERURTER

”Watering, fertilising and taking care of your plants gives you a feeling of meaningfulness that extends to taking care of yourself as well. When you see plants thriving that come from seeds you have planted, it fills you with joy and wonder about a small seed’s ability to grow.

Gardening inspires you with hope for the future!”

”Growing my own food is my favourite thing. There is something almost magical about following the entire process from a small seed to the finished vegetable. Everyone does things a little differently, the main thing is to try and plant some seeds, it doesn’t have to be so complicated, you learn from your mistakes, and often, there will be a little yield anyway!”

”The charm of a garden is that it’s never done. It’s fine if my garden is a bit dreamy and wild, I’m not particularly strict about removing weeds. A few waste piles here and there is fine, they are even a benefit to our essential pollinating insects.”

GRC

Look out for all flowerpots marked with GRC.

These flowerpots are constructed from a novel composite material consisting of 55% cement, 40% sand, and 5% fiberglass. Compared to traditional cement flowerpots, GRC flowerpots are lighter and stronger.

Conventional cement flowerpots are produced using only cement and sand, and they must be made thick to attain sufficient strength, causing them to be excessively heavy. GRC flowerpots, on the other hand, contain fiber-glass to reinforce their structure, allowing for a thinner and less heavy design while maintaining strength.

STYLISH BIRD BATHS

Our terracotta bird baths provide a natural and rustic look to your outdoor area. To use them, simply add water and find a place in a location where birds can easily access it.

You may want to place it in a shady area to help keep the water cool and prevent algae growth.
- Our flying friends will love you for it!

HYDRAL

The self-watering system allows you to cater to your plants' needs without having to water them too often. The drainage holes let out any excess water, so that the plant itself can draw on the contents of the reservoir when it needs them.

RE-POT HOOP & CASSETTA

Plastic is a 100% recyclable material, so in energy terms it is one of our most efficient resources. Teraplast believes in the circular economy: A regenerative system that reduces waste and emissions through recycling, reuse, maintenance and repair. A plastic product at the end of its life cycle can be recycled and reinserted into the production system, in order to create a recycled product of the same quality as the original one.

All of this is behind RE: A sustainable way to look to the future. The pots and decorative pebbles are non-toxic, recycled and 100% recyclable. The eco-friendly products are made using sustainable plastic that reduces their environmental impact and cuts carbon dioxide emissions.

Focus on wild gardens is an increasing trend that only seems to be getting bigger – and for a good reason. It attracts more birds, and it all helps to create biodiversity in the garden. We recommend feeding the birds all year long and a little extra during the winter.

Whether you are into colors or a more classic look with rust, we have it all. Our Birdie bird feeders are both practical and beautiful to look at.

Planting is a wonderful and uplifting experience that can bring a sense of calm and tranquility to any mood. Whether digging in the dirt or carefully tending to new growth, the act of planting can be both therapeutic and rewarding. A small herb garden is a great place to start. You can make it any size you want, and you can grow your herbs in raised beds, flowerpots, or directly in the ground.

Growing herbs in a dedicated herb garden is a great way to have fresh herbs on hand for cooking, or just for their beauty and amazing fragrance.
